

for Anglophone students, the gateway to the world of South and Southeast Asian Buddhist literature

York University

Peter Timmerman

Peter Timmerman, Associate Professor in the Faculty of Environmental Studies at York University, has been serving as a member of the International Expert Working Group (IEWG) on the Government of Bhutan's Project on Well Being for the United Nations. He was a participant in the First Meeting of the IEWG for the New Development Paradigm (NDP) held in Thimphu, Bhutan from January 30 - February 2, 2013 and expects to be working on this project's relationship to Buddhist tradition as part of a continuing, larger project, on Buddhism and the Environment in the Face of Global Change.